

Part-Time Grocery Clerk Part-Time Grocery Clerk + Social Media Super(intendant)

We are looking for two - three fine folks for part-time positions. Ten-20 hours a week with one clerk providing social media skills.

Location: El Paso, Texas

Schedule: Part-time 10-20 hours/flexible schedule

Position: Grocery Clerks AND Grocery Clerk/Social Media Super(intendant)

We're looking for someone who is honest, hardworking, reliable and understands the social media landscape in El Paso.

We're opening a small, highly curated neighborhood grocery store in El Paso—and we're looking for someone who can help make it feel like a place people want to visit, support and return.

We're looking for someone warm, funny, curious, observant, and knows about quality products and how those can benefit our community.

You should know and love El Paso. You should be interested in food, restaurants, local makers, music, art, neighborhoods, and the people who make this city the best kept secret in Texas.

We are a small team. We want someone who understands the initial hard work required to make this the most perfect lil' store ever.

And if applying for social media guru, yes, you should know how to post on Instagram.

What You'll Do

In the Store

- Welcome customers and make them feel genuinely welcome.
- Run the register and handle transactions accurately.
- Stock shelves and keep the store looking beautiful, organized and inviting.
- Receive deliveries and help with inventory.
- Ability to use a POS
- Keep an eye on what's selling and what's not.
- Help customers discover new products and make recommendations.
- Know our products well enough to tell someone why they should try something, not just where it sits on the shelf.
- Help maintain a clean, friendly, lively store.
- Be part of creating the personality and culture of the shop.

On Social Media

- Create and post engaging Instagram/social content.
- Take casual, great-looking photos and short videos in the store and around El Paso.
- Write captions that sound like a smart, funny person—not a corporation.
- Highlight new products, local makers, food, customers, neighborhood happenings, and things we think are worth knowing about.
- Keep up with what's happening in El Paso's food, art, music, and cultural scene.
- Develop recurring ideas and content that people actually look forward to.
- Promote our special events so people want and need to attend
- Help build our voice online: warm, funny, curious, knowledgeable, irreverent, and never trying too hard.
- Respond to comments and messages in the same friendly voice.

You Might Be Our Person If...

- You have a flexible schedule. You will have your regular hours and might be needed for inventory deliveries or special events.
- You have a good sense of humor.
- You have experience with any POS
- You're naturally curious.

- You know El Paso beyond the obvious places.
- You like discovering small businesses, local makers, restaurants, markets, artists, and weird little corners of the city.
- You can make something look good without making it feel overly styled.
- You're comfortable talking to strangers.
- You are dependable and show up when you say you will.
- You can work independently without needing someone to tell you what to do every five minutes.
- You're willing to do a little bit of everything. Small store = many hats.
- You understand that customer experience matters as much as stocking a shelf.

Experience

Retail, grocery, restaurant, hospitality, food, social media, photography, or marketing experience is helpful—but we're more interested in honesty, personality, curiosity, reliability, and good judgment.

If applying for Social Media Super (intendant)

You don't need to be a professional social media manager.

You do need to know how to make a good post, take a decent photo, write something people will actually read, and understand what makes something interesting.

What We Offer

- Part-time hours with a small, independent business.
- A fun, creative work environment.
- The opportunity to help shape the personality of a brand from the beginning.
- A chance to meet interesting people and discover interesting things happening in El Paso.
- A job where your ideas are actually welcome.

If this sounds like you, tell us a little about yourself, what you love to eat in El Paso, and why you think you'd be good at this job.

Bonus points for making us laugh.

If applying for Social Media Super(intendant)

Please submit 3 Instagram posts you love and one original Instagram post you would make for Sun City Super?

Nice to have:

- A multi-faceted background, understanding hospitality, retail and food.
- Experience with specialty grocery or curated retail.
- Familiarity with El Paso culture and a real love for this community.
- Spanish and English speaking.
- Someone who does not love feral cats.
- Someone with a quirky sense of humor and a knack for graphics/design.

The Details:

- Part time
- Hourly rate
- Start date: Early November

To apply: fill out this Google Form.

We'll be in touch if we need more from you, but trust that every application will get read.